

The nopageno package

L^AT_EX's standard styles use two page styles, one on normal pages and one on 'opening' pages with `\maketitle` or `\chapter` etc. Unfortunately there is only easy access to changing one of these two so if you want something other than 'plain' on the opening pages you must use `\thispagestyle{...}` on each such page.

The `fancyheadings` package does provide a more flexible interface, but if you just want an empty page style on all pages then

\usepackage{nopageno}
```

will do the job.

*Actually the above date is probably wrong, I can not remember how long I have had this lying around...
